

YouTube – Stories For Social Distancing

Put together by Irene Racijs, Manager of Residential Services for Villa's West Region, for her ILS staff, but these videos are great for any family member or friend helping our adults in the ILS program.

Please use these videos as a starting point to explain what social distancing is, why it is important, and to help start a dialog with the people we serve. Take a look at them first so you are familiar with the video. Some are more sophisticated than others, so choose the one(s) that you think might resonate best with the person you work with.
